About Me

I'm Kamal and I'm a Software Developer

"I am just a fresher who don't have experience, but have the ability to work. In my short time there, I've already prepared some over a half dozen projects and assisted with managing all the projects by my own. Prior to this role, I completed a one year software development course, where I honed my mobile app development skills, website development skills, software development skills, managing data base skills, and so on. Ideally, I would love to learn more and more in this IT sector
